At 11:34 pm the Glen Ellyn Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call of a possible natural gas line leak at the College of DuPage, located at 425 Fawell Blvd. in Glen Ellyn. Upon arrival it was determined that a landscaping crew had struck a 2 inch service line to the new Technology Building while working. The Technology Building was evacuated and remains so at this time. NICOR is on the scene and working to determine how to secure the gas line. The rest of the campus remains open and operating normally. Additionally 5 individuals in an adjacent building reported feeling ill and are being treated at the scene by Glen Ellyn Paramedics. Fire apparatus and paramedics will remain on the scene until the line is secured. There are no reported injuries at this time.
